Equitable Access and Opportunity to Instruction

In the event we have to return to virtual or remote learning, the South Hackensack School District will provide all students and staff equitable access and opportunity to instruction. All students are provided with a district device (Chromebook (K to 8) or Kindle (PreK) to be able to access their teacher(s) and the curriculum.

- The staff will follow a full-day schedule for Remote Learning Instruction. Zoom/Google Meet and Google Classroom will be the official tools for delivering virtual and remote instruction.
- All teachers in the South Hackensack School District will work their regularly scheduled time whether in-person or remote. We will follow the regular full day and early dismissal schedules (i.e. the same in-person schedules as indicated on the approved district school calendar).
- All schedules in the elementary school level include lunch and recess (see schedule below). We will have a 60 minute lunch period for lunch/recess.
- Pre-K through 8th grade scheduled times will mirror each other, so as not to interfere with synchronous specials area instruction as well as pull out programs such as ESL, Gifted and Talented, and Basic Skills Instruction.

10. Assignments and small group instruction will continue to be differentiated and aligned with core standards and individual learning goals. Data will be collected through live whole or small groups as well as individual instruction, and used to target areas of individual student needs. Students are encouraged to participate in their learning in a variety of ways, and teachers should provide materials and assignments to meet different learning styles and achievement levels. Students in this band are encouraged to demonstrate their understanding and mastery of skills and standards through assignments that offer more choice. South Hackensack will continuously measure student growth and learning through the following:
 - a. Formative Assessments (lesson tickets, conversation, student generated feedback)

- b. Summative Assessments
 - c. Benchmark Assessments (LinkIt!, DRA)
 - d. Digital Portfolios
 - e. Continued implementation of MTSS and I&RS services
11. Assignments and learning expectations are being differentiated to meet the needs of all students, and to provide opportunities to practice higher-level, 21st Century skills. Teachers will take into consideration the content, process of delivery, and the types of products students create when differentiating their lessons, units, and activities. Additionally, care will be taken to ensure that student learning styles are addressed in the types of activities offered.
- a. Additionally, teachers will consider the needs of their individual students by providing auditory support such as reading a text for providing audio files of a text being read so that students can follow along. Texts should be presented at different levels of difficulty, and graphic organizers, images, charts, or other visual supports should be available when applicable to ensure that content is digested.
 - b. Process - Students in a virtual learning situation may need to process their content differently than they do in a physical classroom. Teachers will address those needs by providing assignments that address needs through (but not limited to) activity choice boards, collaborative project-based assignments, asking students to demonstrate understanding in written or video form, participation in virtual learning sessions, choice participation in group discussions, debates, creation of music or poetry. Additionally, promotion of student-centered learning through data-identified targets to create small groups provides teachers with the ability to target areas of weakness or exception such as with gifted and talented students.
 - c. Assessment - Teachers are expected to create, present, and utilize differentiated rubrics to score student work and provide authentic feedback on student products. Additionally, exemplars should be provided for all difficulty levels. They will gather formative and summative data in order to provide the most tailored differentiation possible and embed results in their instructional planning and design.
12. In the event we have to return to virtual or remote learning, the South Hackensack School District will provide all students and staff with free access to WiFi. The District implemented a 1:1 initiative several years ago. At the beginning of the 22-23 school year, all of our staff have new laptops and all students have new chromebooks (Grades K-8) or Kindle tablets (PreK). If virtual or remote learning is required, our staff will utilize their laptops and students will utilize their school issued device.
13. Our Technology Coordinator continues to operate when the district is engaged in virtual or remote learning and addresses any technology issues for students and faculty/staff.

- a. Support (fill out Google Form)
- b. Scheduling a virtual or in-person support is by appointment only

Addressing Special Education Needs

1. All students with disabilities will receive instruction that is aligned to their Individualized Education Plan (IEP). Assignments are modified according to a student's IEP as would have been in a live classroom setting. Teachers follow the goals and objectives outlined in the IEPs. For collaborative classes, the co-teachers plan, grade, and monitor co-teaching classes together.
2. All IEP meetings will continue via Zoom and/or Google Meet.
3. In the event that a student is not able to participate via a virtual platform, a meeting will be held to discuss solutions on an individual basis with the CST and related service providers.
4. The CST will keep track of any testing. Background information for all evaluations will be gathered, and the testing will continue in the event of an emergency closure. In the event that testing is not possible the district will convene an IEP team to decide the best available resources.
5. We plan to contact the out-of-district schools via e-mail in order to coordinate the continuation of IEP meetings.
6. We will document all meetings, provide related services, and meet daily as a team via Zoom and/or Google Meet with the Supervisor of the Child Study Team and the case managers to discuss any issues such as services missed for all of our students.
7. For primary grade students, parents will assist in logging on through Zoom/Google Classroom and receive activities for the day that include reading, writing, phonics, math, etc. These activities will be modified accordingly, based on the individual education plan for the student. All students will have assignments every day through Seesaw/Google Classroom.
8. Depending on the grade level of the special education students, a variety of learning interventions will be utilized during this virtual environment for our students.
 - a. Primary:
 - i. Zoom and/or Google Meet lessons will be utilized to reteach lessons and address IEP goals.
 - ii. Modifications will be implemented to students with IEPs, such as extended time to finish activities.
 - iii. Teachers will utilize classroom aides to help reteach a lesson to a group for students who may need extra help.
 - iv. Student progress will be assessed by virtual Zoom and/or Google Meet classes, with parent assistance submitting work. There may also be small group assessments.
 - b. Elementary/Middle School:
 - i. Special Education teachers will use Zoom and/or Google Meet for whole class instruction.
 - ii. Special education teachers will make themselves available to students for extra help on a daily basis and they also create small group and individual zoom meetings daily to work on individual IEP goals. This is especially helpful when students are having difficulty reaching their goal in the whole class zoom meeting.

- iii. Special Education Teachers will track progress and use modifications based on student output. Some examples include: reading text aloud, by either creating a video and reading for the student to listen to or send an audio version of the required texts.
- iv. Middle School: Special Education Teachers will use a variety of techniques to help deliver modifications at this level. If an IEP calls for frequent redirection and prompting, then prompting and reminders will be provided through messages to students through private messaging during Zoom and/or Google Meet and during instruction. If a student requires extended time, it will be extended to receive full credit for class work.
- v. Progress on goals will be monitored and reported quarterly on report cards.

9. Related Services:

- a. All related services will be implemented via a virtual platform unless specified otherwise in a student's IEP. The related service providers will continue to track services, and keep teachers updated on student progress.
- b. Students will attend small group or individual speech and language therapy, Occupational Therapy, and/or Physical Therapy through Zoom and/or Google meet to address IEP goals.
- c. The service providers will contact the parents and students to set up times that will work for both parties to provide services.
- d. The service providers will be available to meet with parents/students via Zoom and/or Google Meet as necessary.
- e. Any behavior interventions and strategies will be recommended on a case-by-case basis to help support students and their parents during school closures. Parent training and guidance on how to implement these strategies will be provided when necessary.
- f. Case managers will join in during classroom meetings and will also attend the small group Zoom and/or Google Meet meetings to confirm that accommodations and modifications are meeting student needs.
- g. Case managers will check in with all of their students and keep a Google Doc log that keeps track of phone calls, emails, and IEP Zoom and/or Google Meet meetings.
- h. Case managers will also communicate with parents to ensure they have all the necessary information from virtual learning to other pertinent information regarding their student.
- i. All related services set forth in students' IEPs, including nursing services, will be delivered electronically, virtually and remotely.

Addressing English Language Learners (ELL) Plan Needs

1. English Language Learners will continue their learning with daily Zoom and/or Google Meet lessons from certified ESL teachers.

When possible, interviews may be conducted in the native language to obtain information from parents and guardians. Past school records of students are reviewed, and if applicable the student will be assigned an "informal" designation of ELL. Upon returning to school, students will be officially screened, and placed in our ELL program.
6. The ESL Coordinator and ESL teachers will be available to parents and families for assistance and consultation through Zoom and/or Google Meet. Times will be arranged mutually by the teacher and parents.

Teachers will differentiate assignments for students of various language proficiency levels using the most recent WIDA ACCESS for ELLs scores.
8. All ESL students will have access to their Chromebooks and technology resources provided by the district and directed by the ESL teachers.
9. In conjunction with the ESL Coordinator, the district will continue to provide staff with support implementing culturally responsive teaching strategies in all content areas. Our social worker and school psychologists will continue to support the entire school community with social-emotional learning and trauma-informed teaching for students affected by forced migration from their home country. Our school nurse will continue to support with health guidance. The district also has a partnership with CarePlus and Bergen's Promise to continually support the entire school community.
